The use of so called xe2x80x9cpersonal protectionxe2x80x9d articles is widespread. These articles include those used for protection in sports, various military uses, police use, personal protection for women and the elderly, and personal protection for children. In each of these situations, the level of protection may vary significantly. This protection should be able to offer a wide variety of options and afford the user the ability to select between a variety of levels of protection. Many of the prior art safety articles do not offer a wide variety of protection and many use bulky or heavy materials that hinder the user""s body and movement. These articles also may offer limited protection for different parts of the body. It is therefore an object of this invention to provide a safety article which provides a wide variety of options for the user to select from while maintaining a lightweight and comfortable design. It is a further object of this invention to provide a safety article which can be easily put on and taken off while allowing full movement and ease of use for the user. These and other objects will be apparent to those of ordinary skill in the art from the following description. The present invention relates to safety articles and more particularly to articles used to protect the body from impact, or external force. One embodiment of the present invention is a safety article having at least one layer of an elastomeric material. The article may have an external layer and an internal layer of the elastomeric material and a layer of a soft protective material which is separate from the layer of elast 82157476af
