The initial goal is to get a huge variety of titles on Steam. I am confident that we will achieve this goal. I would also like to make it clear that we have no intention of taking any focus or priority away from the games that we are already releasing. In fact, one of the reasons that we launched new titles so quickly is because we can and we want to release more games. We want to keep our focus on the titles that we are releasing now and the new titles coming in the near future, because these are the titles that I am personally interested in. However, 82157476af
